THE ANNUAL OF TAYLOR UNIVERSITY

UPLAND, INDIANA

Dedication

TO THE student body of Taylor University; fun-loving, yet serious minded; God-loving, yet practical; determined to seek the highest values in life for themselves and others; we, the GEM staff, affectionately dedicate the GEM of 1938.

Foreword

THE events of the dying school year have cast long shadows. Soon they will have blended into the twilight of memory to be recalled only when the light of the recorded word shall reveal them. A few of these shadows have been engraved upon the pages of this book. May they in years to come rekindle others.

Student Council

THE Student Council was initiated in the year 1926-27, in order that students might have part in the government of Taylor University. The organization through its short span of life has found that duties increase with growth.

The Council seeks to present the students' point of view, to create closer co-operation and friendly relationship between the student body and faculty, and at all times to secure a mutual understanding between these upon matters falling within its jurisdiction. Throughout the year the duties of the Council have been varied, and in everything there has been splendid co-operation.

The Council is composed of one representative from each class, elected by popular vote, the presidency being held by the Senior representative.

Seniors

Seniors

Officers: Charles Garringer, John Hershey, Lois Knight, Wirth Tennant, John Miles

FOUR years of spiritual—mental—social development on the campus of Taylor University and now the class of "38" stands on the threshold of a new day, of wider horizons, greater privileges and more exacting responsibilities.

As Freshmen we entered Taylor with exuberant, youthful enthusiasm which found expression often in misdirected activities. As Sophomores we were mediocre, having little against us on the negative side but being equally unassuming on the positive side. As Juniors we faced several tasks and gained results, not spectacular but sound and worthwhile.

Having finished our Senior year we still cannot claim to have produced any brilliant leaders but viewing a cross-section of the class you will find a group of men and women who have found themselves; who combine a personal relationship with Christ with a sound scholastic education, and who are willing to attempt to meet any need the world might offer.

ANOTHER year has not only elevated the class of '39 to the rank of "upper classmen" but it has also united this group into firmer, closer bonds of friendship. As true representatives of Taylor University, the members have developed their personalities, and through enthusiastic co-operation have accomplished much in the directing of campus life.

The varied Junior talent successfully met and discharged the school duties which fell to its lot as first year upper classmen. The class social functions, including the traditional banquet in honor of the Seniors, proved to be most interesting and unique.

Ever faithful and consistent in religious life the Juniors proved the benefits of seeking to put first things first in their lives.

THE Chairman of the Junior Rules Committee was searching for some worthy Juniors to serve as co-workers. After observing the goodly number of stalwart Freshmen fellows arriving upon the campus, he thought to himself in this manner, "It looks as though we should have some brawn in this organization." Who could have filled the position better than Arland Briggs? With Ruth Anderson and Mary Shaffer to contribute the element of refinement to the committee, the Junior Rules set to work upon its delicate task. The "guardians" of Taylor etiquette endeavored to promote a higher standard of conduct in the dining hall and upon the campus.

The excellent spirit shown throughout class week characterized the activities of the year.

IN KEEPING with their record made as Freshmen, the members of the class of 1940 began their Sophomore year by dragging the Freshmen tug-o'-war team through the muddy Mississinewa. During Class Week—in spite of the efforts of some freshmen “lassies” to “steal the show”—the Sophomores made known their colors by appearing in maroon and cream coat-sweaters.

Besides taking an active part in the athletic, spiritual and social activities of the student body as a whole, the Class enjoyed a picnic at Upland Park, a Christmas party in Recreation Hall, a formal Spring-time fest, and held inspiring, well-attended prayer meetings each Tuesday morning in Campbell parlors.

THE fall of '37 brought a large group of eager freshmen upon the campus. They got off to a good start with Dr. Charbonnier as sponsor and John Zoller as president.

The Freshmen entered wholeheartedly into the activities of the year. They bowed gracefully to the Sophomores in the Tug-o'-War. They cheerfully wore the traditional green during class week and went a step further, to crown sponsor Charbonnier king at a breakfast ceremony. They humbly cooperated with those in charge of the Fall Revival. The Freshmen men submitted to a one-point defeat at the hands of the Senior men in a play-off for the Intramural basketball championship.

On the whole, the Freshmen had a helpful year, growing both mentally and spiritually as wearers of the green should grow. A gala picnic and class socials were also a part of the year's program.

CRAFTY news writers and photographers on hand to catch personages of importance and news events . . . The grouping of clubs into pleasing formations for photographing . . . The urging of students to have their pictures taken for the class section . . . The endless hounding of copy writers . . . The statements from the Business Manager . . . Other bothersome factors from the standpoint of the student. Clicking of typewriters, gooey paste, frantic rushing hither and yon, then a period of anxious proof reading and waiting, and finally the GEM is in the hands of the students. All the vexing details are forgotten and the impatient words are forgiven and everyone understands and appreciates the meaning of it all.

NOTICE:

Your ECHO is now in your post office box.

"The Editor"

THE above statement every other Saturday night is possible because of many hours of hard work. Monday morning, before the issue comes out, the editor and news editor make a list of news items which are assigned to reporters. Tuesday, the reporters make the necessary contacts to get their stories. 6:45 Wednesday evening is the deadline for all news. All material is corrected for mistakes and typed. Thursday morning the first copy goes to the printer. Thursday night the last article is typed, those pesky editorials are written, the advertisements are set up and headlines are fitted to the articles. Friday morning cuts, ads, articles, and the corrected galleys go to the printer. Friday night, the editor and managing editor fit each intricate part into the dummy ECHO. Saturday morning, the gluey dummy is taken to the print shop where it is made up. At two o'clock the press begins to turn. By four thirty, one thousand copies are ready. The circulation managers fold the copies, the business manager pays the bill, and there's your ECHO in your P.O. Box on Saturday night.

Each ECHO embodies approximately 10,000 words, 100 hours of work by the staff, twenty-five to thirty hours of work by printers, and ten trips to Upland.

Thalonian

TO "Know Thyself" is to court achievement. Loyal Thalonians, lifting high their Orange and Black standard bearing this motto, marched down through the year with a victor's tread. New students were delighted with the activities of Thalo day, which centered around a pioneer theme of the covered wagon era, and concluded with the drama, "A Soldier of the Cross," written by Marshall Lucas.

As students reflect upon Thalonian features, the resonant tones of the organ as it was played by the famed blind master, Charles Hansen, will blend with the melodious young voices heard in the dramatization of the history of carols presented at Christmas time under the direction of the beloved Thalonian sponsor, Professor Bothwell. This mental picture will radiate with the warmth kindled by the pleasures of the annual Hallowe'en masquerade, and will sparkle with the hilarious laughter of those who witnessed the big spring farce, "Second Childhood."

Other Thalonian accomplishments worthy of note were the community sing and the carefully planned closed meetings. The revised Thalonian Constitution proved of vital interest.

THE Philos—the “friendly” society, have had a splendid year under their able president, Luther Patton, and sponsor, Professor Raymond Kreiner.

The year started with a “bang.” Bob Morlock conducted the various activities of Philo Day very successfully. The presentation of the play “Follow Thou Me” consummated a perfect day.

Then came the old-fashioned Hay Ride and a proverbial “good time” was had by all, reminding each one of the good old horse and buggy days.

Literary Society

young and old alike chewed their finger-nails and tore their hair.

The high point of the year was the operetta, "The Count and the Co-Ed," which was given in the spring. This type of program is one which has not been attempted for several years, and the Philos are proud that they undertook this enterprise. In so doing they have revealed the fine musical talent of their members.

In the closed meetings the meaning of "literary" was kept foremost. The few amendments which were added to the Constitution make it now very practical.

Young Women's Association

Officers—Seated: Dorothy Weaver, Jean Southern, Lydia White Standing: Martha Leeman, June Walker

THE Young Women's Association of Taylor University has grown and developed until now it is with joy, interest, and enthusiasm that all the girls in the dormitory and all the girls living on the campus bound into the parlor for an hour, "just to get together," before the last bell rings on Wednesday night.

Through the medium of these sessions, the new girls were introduced to the Taylor women and were made acquainted with the customs of the Taylor family. Illustrated lectures, class stunts, talks by visitors, informal fun-fests and other varied programs contributed to the cultural and inspirational nature of these times of friendly association. In early spring "Open House" in the dormitories was sponsored by the Young Women's Association.

Debate Squad

*Seated: Halfast, Smith, Persons, Chilcote
Standing: Morrow, Bragan, Prof. Dennis, McLennan, Green*

DEBATING the proposition, Resolved: "That the National Labor Relations Board should be empowered to enforce arbitration in all industrial disputes," Taylor's inter-collegiate debaters participated in a rather active season. Pre-tournament debates with Anderson, Marion, and Goshen brought Taylor three of six decisions. In these debates Taylor was represented by Hazel Smith and Richard Halfast, Affirmative; and Edith Persons and Thomas Chilcote, Negative. At the annual inter-collegiate tournament held jointly at Manchester and Huntington Colleges, Taylor was represented by Lorenz Morrow, Ross McLennan, Philip Greene, and Murray Bragan, in addition to those who participated in the three earlier debates. At this two-day meet the debaters won five of their twenty-two contests.

Post-tournament activities consisted of debates with Anderson College, Butler University, and Manchester College.

Fifth Row: Johnson, Dourte, Prof. Oborn—sponsor, Knox*

AS THE grey mists of dawn lifted from Taylor's campus one morning last October, the members of the club with the new girls as guests, stealthily crept through the dormitory in true Indian style and filed through the woods to their annual fall Pow-Wow. Later the new girls of the school were invited to a regular meeting and twenty-five new members were welcomed into the club.

During the Christmas season the girls thoroughly enjoyed a Christmas "Kid" party. The round of spring activities was brought to a close with a formal banquet which had Germany as its theme, the swastika being the club symbol.

Regular meetings have taken the form of spicy and clever parliamentary drills. The inter-club debate was the feature of the year. The Misses Vera Grimm and Jane Cummings, speakers for the affirmative, won the debate to make Soangetahas champions.

Mnanka

*First Row: Erler, McEvoy, Wiggins, Harris, Persons, Webb
Second Row: Montz, McCallian, Malsbury, Ladd, Pask
Third Row: M. J. Smith, Cooke, DeWolfe, Niebel, Wright, H. Smith
Fourth Row: Longnecker, Weaver, Nickerson*

THE Mnanka Debating Society has done much this year in furthering the cultural interest of its members.

Extemporaneous speaking, parliamentary drill and many unusual programs have added to the enjoyment of the regular bi-monthly meetings. The "Weavers of Knowledge" have shown their true worth in seeking for the highest appreciation in the finer things of life.

A formal tea at the home of Miss Bothwell, followed a few weeks later by the unforgettable "sausage brawl" were the high spots of the fall's social activities. At the Christmas season, Mrs. Santa Claus visited the Mnankas as they gathered around the fireplace in the parlors. The clowning of Pat and Mike, the singing of Irish melodies and the wearing of the green characterized the St. Patrick Day party in Recreation Hall. The year's round of gaieties ended in the annual spring banquet at the Colonnades in Alexandria. "Shadows of the Orient" was the theme.

International Relations Club

Seated: Litzezy, Mumma, Knox, Trefz, Sucaringen, Anderson, Wilcox, Hood, Dahlstrand, Moore, Rose, Bragan, E. Alsbaugh

Standing: J. Alsbaugh, Dr. Oborn—sponsor, Moore, Stephens, Anderson, Grimm

THE purpose of the International Relations Club is three-fold. First, to align Taylor University with other educational institutions of the immediate vicinity which have the interest of national and international affairs at heart. Second, to strive to afford the students of Taylor every opportunity possible for impartial enlightenment upon national and international issues of our time. Third, to cooperate as fully as possible with other International Relations Clubs throughout the world for International Peace.

In addition to the bi-monthly meetings of the club, where interesting talks and discussions by capable persons are carried on, the club this year sent a speaker and several delegates to the District Meeting of I. R. Clubs at Marion, and presented a chapel program, unique in that the dramatization was written by a member, Donald Mumma.

French Club

Seated: M. Smith, Davis, Smetburst, Cattell, Jobson, D. Smith, Grile, Weed, Alsbaugh, Malsbury, Bingaman

Standing: Cummings, Cline, Fouike

THE French Club or "Le Cercle Francais" purposes to develop a deeper appreciation of the French language and French culture, and to offer to the students who study French greater opportunities to use the language in a practical way.

Twice a month the French Club has interesting and varied programs. A French school and a Christmas play, written by Mlle. Gibson, furnished enjoyment to the members. Various programs consisting of French songs, poems, stories, and games in which the French students participated were also enjoyed.

Conservation Club

ONE evening last September a group of students met with Dr. Tinkle in the biology lecture room to organize a conservation club. The Taylor University Conservation Club with thirty-six charter members was formed. The objectives of this club briefly stated are: (1) To learn the needs and methods of conservation of natural resources. (2) To cooperate with the officials of Taylor University and the Indiana State Department of Conservation in conserving natural resources. (3) To provide wholesome recreation for its members.

In its first year the club has carried out several projects of interest and value to its members and to the college. Among these was a chapel program on Arbor Day with a speaker from the state department, visits by the club to a fish hatchery and similar conservation projects, and the extermination of moles from parts of the campus. Part of the Sunken Garden was repaired and some wild flowers were planted about the pool making this spot even more beautiful.

Religion

Holiness League

Maxine Weed, Arthur Climenbaga, George Murphy

HOLINESS League upholds as its motto, "Holiness Unto The Lord." A definite influence for Christian perfection has gone out from these Friday evening meetings.

The organization has no definite membership, but it continues to be Taylor's largest religious group. Faculty and students share in the refreshing of this hour; hearts rejoice in the manifestations of God's presence. Ringing testimonies to a close relationship with Christ, hearty singing, fervent effectual prayers, and burning messages stir the hearts of the needy and thrill the souls of believers.

Throughout the year the services, under the able leadership of the presidents, Glenber Sutton and Arthur Climenhaga, and the chorister, George Murphy, have been times of fellowship and communion with the Holy Spirit.

Youth Conference Committee

*Standing: Short, Hershey, Kimbel, Dillon, Anderson, Uphold, Longnecker
Seated: Haines, Rediger, Butz, Wolgemuth*

BEAUTIFUL spring days, long bread lines, throngs of eager youth, Spirit empowered messages, lined altar, prayer, victory! Thus, the fifth and greatest annual Interdenominational Youth Conference came to a close.

Earnest effort and cooperation on the part of both faculty members and student body characterized the preparation for the physical and spiritual needs of the expected guests. The daily volumes of prayer which rose for weeks before the event made the performance of the lowliest task seem bathed in the glory of God.

The motto of this year's Conference was "The Living Christ for Willing Youth" and the theme verse was "that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith." The guest speakers were Dr. John Zoller of Detroit; Rev. Thomas Williamson of Akron, Ohio; and Dr. S. H. Turbeville of Mishawaka, Indiana.

Ministerial Association

*First Semester Officers: Duffie, Vaile, Morrow, Smith, Uphold, Kimbel
Second Semester Officers: Morrow, Sands, Anderson, Compton, Kimbel, Hoke*

THE Ministerial Association meets once each week with a two-fold purpose: to maintain the great benefits of inspiration which come through a fellowship of this nature; to receive practical instruction in the work of the ministry.

This year a number of interesting guest and local speakers addressed the body and an interesting survey of the Elements of Ministerial Success was led by William Uphold. A special feature was the preparation, delivery, and critique of a number of student homilies.

The Ministerial Association, now under the direction of the School of Religion, this year revised the Constitution and By-Laws to permit membership to both men and women.

Student Volunteer Band

Officers: Harold Lauman, Dorothea Crandall, Jessie Shultz, Harold Miller

THE Volunteer band welcomes to its membership those preparing definitely for service in the foreign field. This year the presence among its members of several students from other nations and races, and the visits of an unusually large number of missionaries, have kept before the student body the final challenge of Christ, "Go ye into all the world."

High peaks of inspiration and achievement included the annual Indiana Student Volunteer Conference held February 12-13 at Manchester College, which ten members attended, and a week-end missionary conference held March 25-27 on the campus.

Two of the members, Eleanor Anderson and Carol Brown, were elected to serve in the State Volunteer Cabinet during the coming year.

Unique features and projects of this year's program include a Chinese tea, an all-school party, the attempt to collect a barrel of used postage stamps to support a Bible Colporteur in South China, and the maintenance of a scholarship for a native boy in the Belgium Boys' High School in India.

Prayer Band

First Row: Shultz, Trefz, Compton, Cummings, Ferree, Sutch, Wilson

Second Row: Heywood, Warner, Lewis, Bingaman, E. Anderson, H. Butz, A. Butz, Chilcote

Third Row: Burtner, Short, Whetstone, R. Anderson, Heineman, Brown, Tennant

BELIEVING that communion with God is a vital factor in developing the Christian personality of the individual, and that prayer is a force that can alter events and work for the accomplishment of good, the members of this organization meet each Tuesday evening for an hour of intercessory prayer.

The members of the organization remember the requests not only of the administration and student body of Taylor University, but also the special needs of the world at large.

Prayer Band is unspectacular in its program but its accomplishments can not be numbered.

Vesper Choir

*Standing: Myers, Zoller, Gage, Sands, Anderson, Buckwalter, Foulke, Prof Kreiner—director
Seated: McEvoy, Shaffer, Niebel, Cook, Scea, Leathers, K. Bingaman, M. Bingaman*

PROFESSOR Kreiner has dreamed ever since coming to Taylor University of a choir whose sole purpose would be to assist in the Sunday evening vesper service. This year, working with the other members of the vesper committee, he was able to bring his dream to fruition. He organized a choir of sixteen members. At each vesper service they have assisted in the congregational singing, and have rendered a special number. The presence of the robed choir on the platform and the fine efforts of its members have added much to the worshipful atmosphere of the services.

Gospel Team Committee

Dr. Oborn, Uphold—student secretary, Dean Foust, Dean Fenstermacher

OPPORTUNITY for students to participate actively in Christ's program in carrying the Gospel to others is afforded through Gospel teams under the direction of the Gospel Team committee.

Following a plan established in recent years, Gospel team captains are appointed by the faculty committee. These captains organize groups of students to serve whenever and wherever they may be called. Teams leave the campus for Sunday services, week-end meetings, and revivals. In this service for the Master they not only show others the way to Christ, but enrich their own lives. Reports of pastors express appreciation for the soul-stirring services conducted by consecrated youth.

Choral Society

"HALLELUIAH, for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth!" fifty-four young voices sang as they climaxed Handel's great oratorio, "The Messiah." "Droop, Sacred Head, the Saviour hangs for thee," rang out the voices again to bring to a glorious close Maunder's cantata "Olivet to Calvary," and Prof. Kreiner, their appreciated director, smiled again, "Well done." The Taylor University Choral Society sang "The Messiah" at Grace M. E. Church, Hartford City, as well as on the campus. It performed "Olivet to Calvary" four times—at First M. E. Church, Marion; at Hartford City Presbyterian Church, and at High Street M. E. Church, Muncie, besides singing its Easter message to an appreciative Taylor audience.

It also brought two fine numbers at Youth Conference time, and gave its climactic annual concert at Commencement.

Here many students have found an outlet for their musical exuberance and obtained the invaluable training of singing in a well conducted chorus. Miss Dorothy Smith served as an efficient accompanist.

University Orchestra

THE fine orchestra of Taylor University is not merely a group of young people but it is a vital organization.

In its activities it gives the student member various kinds of development. Much training is given in sight reading, and its members are introduced to some of the masterpieces of the great composers. Practical experience in symphonic work is made possible under the apt leadership of Professor Fenstermacher. It has a membership representing all schools of the university.

It is delightful to all its members to have a part in the special programs which the orchestra offers throughout the year. These consist of concerts in chapel and participation in the Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises.

First Quartet

Harold Miller

Carl Reppert

Arland Briggs

Joseph Kimbel

VETERANS all! And so its members are, for they have been together for two summers and three winters. Their travels have totaled 22,000 miles in a territory consisting of ten states and Canada. Their field of appearance has included revivals, week-end meetings, summer institutes, camp meetings, school programs, home-comings, business men's luncheons, and street meetings. They have broadcast over twelve radio stations, and they have visited and blessed many shut-ins with their singing.

Last summer the boys' itinerary included ten camp meetings, nine days with Dr. Zoller in Detroit, a week's services at Barker, New York, and a week in Chicago under the direction of Dr. Lindblom.

Joseph Kimbel has been replaced by John Zoller who will sing with the quartet during the coming summer.

Second Quartet

SINCE the time of its organization during the winter, this quartet has been busy filling appointments at revival services, W.C.T.U. meetings, Missionary and Youth Conventions, and various types of church banquets throughout the states of Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Combined with the First Quartet, this group sang in services on and off the campus, most notably helping in a series of Pre-Easter services in Muncie.

This summer holds many new opportunities and privileges for the quartet.

Ralph Cummings, Maurice Beery, John Hershey, Devere Brown

Violin Ensemble

Violin ensemble: Paul Sobel, Elizabeth Carpenter, Leone Harris—accompanist, Robert Jackson, Arthur Anderson

THE violin ensemble has gained much popularity this year. The members, who represent the stringed section of the orchestra, have found it pleasurable to further the ideals of its mother organization. During the course of the year it has built up a repertoire of classical and semi-classical compositions sufficient to play for a number of dinner and banquet programs both on the campus and away. One of the members, Robert Jackson, has arranged several selections that have given much variety to the programs.

Its activities have also included participation in other school functions such as the Youth Conference, a piano recital, and the commencement exercises.

Tiger House

SHIVERS, shrieks, terror, and thrills were registered by the audience attending the "Tiger House" mystery play performed by the play production class in Speirs Hall, Saturday night, January twenty-ninth.

THE CAST:

Erma Lowrie	June Walker
Yami, the Hindu servant	Arthur Dahlstrand
Aunt Sophia	Virgie Grile
Murdock, the butler	Lewis Black
MacIntosh	William Uphold
Arthur Hale	Paul Stuart
Oswald	Robert Jackson
Peg van Ess	Teuntje Peters
Thompson	Loran Helm
Mystery woman	Dorothy Lewis

Mystery Manor, believed to be haunted, was the scene of a dramatic evening during which an heiress discovered trapdoors, a pearl necklace, and the culprits who had attempted to steal it. The super-natural element was furnished by tigers' claws that stealthily grabbed and carried off their victims; by the dead aunt whose sinister spirit seemed to pervade the house; and by the general atmosphere of expectancy, heavy with fear and dread.

Second Childhood

THALONIANS chose for their annual spring play a clever farce, "Second Childhood," by Zellah Covington and Jules Simonson, which was presented April 8, in Maytag Gymnasium.

The claims that scientists had worked for twenty-five years in order that one might enjoy an evening of hilarious mirth were vindicated. Only one flaw was found in the advertising. Someone was heard to remark that the promise of a hundred and one laughs was unfulfilled because the production was one big laugh from beginning to end.

Marshall Lucas whipped a brand new Thalonian cast into a group which splendidly unraveled the complications attendant upon the discover by a scientifically inclined professor of an Elixir of Youth which supposedly turned dogs into puppies and old men and charming young women into tiny infants.

The work of the cast, directors, and stage hands was such that the Thalos were once more acclaimed "tops" in play production.

The Count and the Co-Ed

THE Philos took a forward step this year in presenting the comic operetta, "The Count and the Co-Ed," by Geoffrey F. Morgan and Geoffrey O'Hara.

The action takes place upon the campus of a typical American university. It involves the usual financial worries of the president and the love interests and escapades of the students, particularly those of Snooze Andrews who seeks the hand of the president's daughter. There is in the background a rich count from whom the president would like to receive an endowment to lessen his financial burden. Unwittingly Snooze befriends the count and as a result the count contributes to the endowment fund. Of course Snooze wins Dolly and everyone is happy.

THE CAST:

T Club

*Standing: Magsig, Stuart, Keller, Smetburst, Haines
Seated on Ledge: Engstrom, Randall, Van Loon
Seated on Steps: Munma, Warner, Garringer, Patton, Driscoll, Halfast, Armstrong*

THE T Club is an organization which has a restricted membership. It is composed of those athletes who have won their varsity letter in basketball, baseball, tennis, or track. The members of the organization vote on the membership of new athletes each year. The members of the club choose the winner of the Gates-Howard trophy, awarded annually to the athlete showing the most proficiency in athletics and sportsmanship, and best upholding the standards of the school.

In the fall the T Club sponsored an all-school tennis tournament, an inter-class horseshoe tournament, and inter-dormitory soft ball and archery contests. During the winter the inter-class basketball tournament was under the direction of the club. In the spring a program of outdoor athletics was held. Thus, under Coach Howard's direction the T Club sponsors an extensive program of intramural athletics.

THE Trojans opened their season November 5, in a hard fought game with Indiana Central. Showing much of last season's form, Stuart scored 17 points, though Taylor lost. Indiana Central 52, Taylor 32.

The Greyhounds invaded Taylor's domains to give the Trojans their second defeat. Coach Howard substituted freely. Dorton of Indiana Central successfully guarded Stuart. 60-33 Indiana Central.

With her blood thoroughly riled by two defeats, Taylor traveled to Concordia. The game was rough throughout. Stuart and Armstrong went out on fouls in the second half but Taylor won. Taylor 32, Concordia 30.

Once more Taylor was engulfed. This time at Richmond by a whirlwind in the form of the fast Earlham team. Taylor was defeated 38 to 21.

Our second home game was played against Anderson, December 11. The Trojans played ball superior to Anderson at the start but Anderson came back to defeat Taylor 39 to 31.

Manchester's greater height under the basket, and her smooth, fast passing proved to be too much for the Trojans. 66-19.

Coach Howard's men lost a hard game to Central Normal. Central Normal was leading by five points with two minutes to play when Stuart sank two long shots. However, before the boys could put in another bucket, the gun cracked and the Trojans lost 32 to 31.

Huntington vs. Taylor—in one of the roughest games of the season, Taylor was defeated 37 to 32. Fourteen personal fouls were called for Taylor against seven for Huntington. Alspaugh and Hanley played outstanding ball for Taylor.

The tide turned when Taylor went to Rose Poly. Displaying deadeye accuracy, Stuart scored a personal total of 17 points. Steadiness of eye and nerves won the game for the Trojans by the score of 43 to 28.

At the half the Trojans trailed Giffin 11 to 6, but they came out fighting in the second period to win 25 to 22.

Another defeat at the hands of Anderson, 47 to 36, made the Trojans a very determined team when they faced Concordia in Maytag gymnasium. It was one of the best games witnessed by Taylor fans. Score—Taylor 48, Concordia 41.

Valparaiso's smooth passing on the floor and superior height under the basket proved valuable in defeating Taylor 46 to 23. Our boys fought to the final gun. Alspaugh's guarding was outstanding.

The defeat the night before at the hands of Valparaiso did not discourage the Trojans when they took on Rose Poly February 12. The purple and gold players, working as a unit, shot their way to a 34 to 26 victory.

Our last home game of the season was played against Huntington. It was fast, and hard-fought all the way through. Warner and Armstrong were high scorers. Gividen and McEvoy played a nice game. Huntington overcame the Trojans in the last part of the game 40 to 31.

The last two games of the season were played away from Taylor. The first one, with Giffin, turned out 33 to 25 win for the Trojans. Against Manchester the boys fought hard but could not make their shots. Taylor was defeated 58 to 28.

EIGHT players from last year's squad returned for action this year. Coach Howard found several promising prospects among the first year men to augment these. It looked as if Taylor were going to have a good season but Davis Gage, first string pitcher, suffered a broken ankle. This threw the burden of pitching upon Kashner and Litten who bore their burden well.

Champs

INTRAMURAL

Back Row: Randall, Doblstrand, Halfast, Miles, Tennant Front Row: Patton, Mumma, Garringer, Engstrom

THIS year the men's intramural basketball teams were so evenly matched that it was impossible to pick the champions until the final game had been played.

The Seniors started off the season with a series of easy wins, being stopped finally by the Sophomores and Freshmen. Determined, by these defeats, not to lose another game, they met the Freshmen, and defeated them in the final championship contest. The Seniors' passing and team-work won the championship for them.

The Juniors had splendid material for their team, but they seemed unable to work together; consequently they ranked rather low.

The Champs of last year, the Sophomores, at times had a very outstanding team. However, the loss of some of their most valuable players proved to be too much of a handicap for them.

Although the Freshmen got off to a bad start, they came back toward the end of the season almost to edge out the seniors in the final game.

BASKETBALL

Champs

*Seated: Macy, Wheeler, Garringer—coach, Smith, Grile
Standing: Knight, Kruschwitz, Butz, Cline, Pask*

FOUR years experience proved valuable this year for the Senior girls, winners of the girls' class basketball tournament. Suffering but two defeats all season, they coasted through for the third championship of their basketball careers. They have been champions as Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors. Not only did they have an offense that could not be stopped, but much credit is also due the three girls who worked on the defense.

The other three teams ranked rather evenly, making most of the games unusually interesting. The Juniors and Freshmen managed to defeat the Seniors once each, worrying the Champs for a time, but the Sophomores seemed unable to make headway against the strong Senior team. All three of these teams showed such improvement during the year that next season's tournament promises to be a closely contested one.

DIZZY DEFINITIONS

Radio is stuff that I would have a smaller automobile or none at all if it weren't for.

Gasoline is stuff that if you don't use good in your car it won't run as well as if.

Glue is what the flaps on envelopes would stick down better if you had good on.

A desk is when you're tired working you don't sit at it.

Gas is stuff that if you turn it on and don't light it, the soft music they play you don't hear.

A nose dive is a plastic surgeon's office.

A good example of the sideshow barker is Jo-Jo, the dog-faced boy.

Alice: "Huh, wise guy, you're just like a whip in the hands of an expert."

Bill: "Smart, you mean."

Alice: "No, cracked."

* * *

Gerber: "Do you get good mileage in your roadster?"

Myers: "Oh, about five miles per gal."

Boss: "On the way there you'll pass a baseball field."

Jones (hopefully): "Yes?"

Boss: "Well, pass it."

* * *

Wally: "I'm sure I heard a mouse squeaking."

Walt (drowsily): "Well, what do you want me to do, get up and oil it?"

TAYLOR SONG.

Words and music by MELVIN J. HILL.

1. Up beyond the vil-lage bor-der, Pointing in the air,
 2. From the north and south, her students, East and west, are there,
 3. Far and wide her fame is spreading, 'Till in ev-'ry land,

Stand her tow-ers seen far dis-tant When the day is fair,
 All the na-tions ope' her port-als, And her bless-ings share,
 Men shall hear the name of Tay-lor, And her pur-pose grand,

CHORUS.

Glad-ly our voic-es ech-o her praises, Taylor the school we love,

Gai-ly her col-ors float on the breezes, They our de-vot-ion prove.

M. J. Hill, 121 Avery Ave., Detroit, Mich., owner
